LOCAL NEWS

Prohibition officers, headed by Felix Fields and John Collins, went into the Linefork sections and captured four moonshine stills, a lot of whiskey, destroyed a quantity of paraphernalia and brought in two 'shiners.

The two weeks old baby of N. B. Hall and wife died at their home here. We offer sympathies.

Persons who attended the Baptist church services at Mayking Sunday say that there must have been a thousand persons present. Good order and careful attention was given the preaching. Three ladies, Mrs. Susan Day, Mrs. Sallie Blair and Miss Francis Blair, were baptized by Eld. G. B. Adams. At Sandlick (old church) Mrs. Church, R. Blair, Robins, Profit and Marion Blair preached to a fairly good sized audience. On account of the two above services the town was almost depopulated.

The Whitesburg Ice & Feed Co. will sell you ice at its plant at $1 a hundred lbs., delivered in city limits at $1.20 per 100 lbs. Ice shipped by rail as far as Whiteo and Mayking.

J. Henry Hall, of Lexington, manager of the Whitesburg Coal Co., was a business visitor here Saturday. Also we noticed Mr. Dudley of the Kentucky River Coal Co., Lexington, and Attorney Pete Wheeler, of Hazard, here the same day. All these are glad to come to Whitesburg where they have so many good friends.

Leave orders for coal at the L. M. Day restaurant. Pay Mr. Day for the coal at time you give in your order. Put in your coal while the weather is good.—A. C. Miller.

Aunt Cornelia Frazier, quite feeble for sometime, has been very sick for several days. Mrs. Frazier is one of our best known and best loved ladies.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Shea was quite sick first of the week.

The bond issue voted sometime ago to raise money to be spent on Letcher county roads has been held valid and the bonds will be sold.

Miss Etta Dixon, twenty year old daughter of our townsman, W. C. Dixon, is very ill with dropsy. She has been in poor health for years.

Harry Moore, leading lawyer and Police Judge of Jenkins, was over Monday.

Our cold spell in May is now passed over and we predict nice growing weather for sometime to come. Three months from the middle of this month we may expect some extremely hot and sultry days.

Bring your keys to Mullins & Fairchilds' Saturday, May 27 and open the lock. If you have the right key you will get the kitchen cabinet free.

A summer school for teachers begins here on June 5.

All who took occasion to attend the commencement exercises at the High School were highly pleased and compliments for those who took part in the entertainments are still heard on every hand.

Attorney Emery L. Frazier was up the State several days seeing the boys and running over to Lawrenceburg, his old home. Mr. Frazier is frequently spoken of as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

The Eagle is an ardent advocate of home industry, home enterprise, home trade, in fact, its best energy is to be exerted along these times. Every citizen, laying aside prejudice and every shadow of selfishness, on proper thought, is duty-bound to stand for these things. The schools and churches, the public high-ways divers enterprises and industries in other sections of the state will be cared for and fostered by those in control of them. They will be benefited on account of them. Here in town, in Letcher County and throughout these hills lies our interest, our good, our success and failures. In union there is strength, in divisions are strife and failure.

The Chautauqua is billed to be in Whitesburg soon after the middle of July—Whichever is to be had, a teachers' summer school or institute, should be provided for at the same time.

The many good friends of Stephen P. Combs, at Lexington for treatment, were pleased to hear that he is much improved. It is believed he will be able to come home within a week or ten days.

Mrs. C. H. Burton entertained the graduating class Saturday afternoon. Delicious ice cream and cake was served and each one present was presented with a small remembrance, wrapped in brown and gold paper, being the class colors. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Harris, Mrs. John M. Bentley, Miss Poage and the graduating class.

A delightful Reception was given Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M.D. Lewis in honor of the graduation class. The dining room was artistically decorated with gold and white roses. Dainty and delicious refreshments served.

Had You Thought of It?

"What will good roads and good connections with good roads do?" We need not draw on our imagination much to answer this question. Laying aside the last part of the above question for the moment, however, we desire to state that already this year, owing to the good highway now extending from Whitesburg to the coal fields above us as well as some stretches of good roads to the North and East of town, there has been remitted to the State Treasurer in automobile, truck and motor cycle licenses the sum of $3,057.24, and the half is not yet.

It is announced now by the head of the State Automobile Department that the State Treasurer will receive in automobile licenses this year not less than $2,500,000. This money is brought to the State's finances which possess improved roads.

If this sum of money can be brought to the State this year three-fourths of the counties without improved roads it would not be unreasonable to say that in a short while $10,000,000 would be raised and expended each year in the building and maintenance of good roads if all the counties would get the spirit and put their highways in creditable shape.

Where automobiles can be run they are as readily sold in Kentucky and the mountains as anywhere else. It is said that if it was announced that the Mayo Trail from Ashland to Pound Gap was to be opened on July 4, 1922 there would be on July 3, 1922 1,000 new passenger automobiles ready to celebrate the Glorious Fourth by making the trip. Would it pay? The answer is not left to the Eagle; everybody knows it would and that, too, in more ways than one. The amount collected in auto licenses would be trivial to the other amounts which would flow into the good roads sections.

Listen! The day is in sight when capital will let loose as it has never before in this end of the State. The Sandy Valley with its millions, the Northfork with its millions and the Cumberland Valley with its millions is to meet the marts of the world with their trillions—and who thinks that Letcher, Perry, Pike, Harlan, Floyd and Knott can't build highways the equal to any in the State, is a fanatic. The people themselves, the good and pure old fashion citizens, will bear only a small proportion of it and they themselves will receive an equal proportion of the good. The churches and the schools and the highways move hand-in-hand—the tripod, the pedestals upon which civilization rests. Solitary as it often feels itself, humble, as it knows it is, with its javelin unpainted the Eagle is dedicated to do its best. That best may be little but on the hustings it stands with outstretched wings and the banner of progress streaming from its beak.

A Letter

Hazard, Ky. May 23, 1922.
To the people of the 10th Congressional District of Ky.

Since making my announcement for Congress, the people of Perry County, and the 33rd Judicial District of Kentucky, have earnestly insisted that I should not make the race at this time. Aside from the fact that the people generally are making this demand for me, a great number of my personal friends, have likewise made the same demand. They all assign for their reason for so doing, that I have recently been inducted into the Office of Commonwealth's Attorney, for a period of six years, and that I should remain in my Judicial district, and render such services as I can to the people of the district, by assisting in the enforcement of the law. I feel that the good people of my district who so overwhelmingly indorsed me for Commonwealth's Attorney are entitled to my consideration and service, and under the circumstances and conditions I am constrained to say to the people that I will not make the race for Congress.

I wish to thank all those who have manifested a concern and interest in my candidacy and also the public generally, for the confidence manifested in me and in my ability to make this race. It is a source of much gratification to me to know that the people of this great Congressional district have faith and confidence in my ability to win in a contest of this character, and I trust that in the future years I will be able to comply with the will and wishes of the great masses of the people of our district, and serve them as their representative if it be their will and pleasure.

I know that our district and our country are now during the reconstruction period of the world, as never before entitled to wise and constructive legislation, and I trust that who ever assumes this great responsibility will give to our district and country progressive service and legislation.
Cordially yours,
adv C. W. Napier.

Important Features of General Registration Act

Under this law, passed over the Governor's veto by the 1922 General Assembly, every voter must register in order to be eligible to vote at the November election.

Dates of registration this year.—July 10 and 11 and September 8. Hours.—Six A.M. to Nine A.M.

Officers.—Two judges, a clerk and a sheriff. These are to be appointed by the County Board of Election Commissioners not later than June 20, from lists to be furnished by the party committees not later than June 15. "No person shall be eligible as an officer of registration who has committed a homicide, or who has been convicted of a felony or is under indictment therefor, or who is not sober, temperate, discreet and of good demeanor, or who has anything of value wagered on the result of the next election or who is a candidate to be voted for at the next succeeding election, and who is not capable of reading the Constitution of the Commonwealth in English and of writing a plain and legible hand." See Section 2 of the Act.

It is the duty of the registration clerk to post notices in at least six conspicuous places in the precinct ten days in advance, giving the time and place of registration. As soon as registration officers receive from the sheriff of the county notice of their appointment, they should secure a copy of the registration law and make themselves thoroughly familiar with it.

Who May Register—"Said officers shall register every citizen of the United States of his or her precinct, who shall apply to be registered at the time and place in the manner required by law, who shall be 21 years of age at the next election, who has been a resident of the state one year, of the county six months and of the precinct in which such person offers to register sixty days next preceding the election."

It is not necessary that the voter should be a resident of the precinct 60 days before he offers to register. If by the November election he will have been a citizen of the state one year, of the county six months and of the precinct 60 days he may register even tho he may have moved into the precinct the day before or even on the day of registration.

How to Register—The voter must apply in person. His or her name will be recorded in a book by the clerk. The voter must then give address, street and number if in city, and post-office if in county, length of residence in state, county, precinct, color, age, sex, occupation, party affiliation, apparent weight and height and other means of identification. When all of this is recorded the voter must sign his name, if he can. If he is unable to sign he may make oath to that fact and the clerk will sign for him. When all of this is done and attested by the clerk and sheriff the voter is duly registered.

Within three days after registration the books must be taken to the County Clerks office where a copy of each precinct book is made by the County Clerk.

THE CALL OF THE HILLS

(I.H.L. in Berea Citizen)

Oh, hills! Oh, beauteous hills!
You beckon me and I must go.
I love your rocks and shining rills;
I love your gentle winds that blow.

What wondrous melody I hear
When straying 'neath your woodland bowers!
And all to please my weary ear,
To rest my eyes you spread the flowers

Along the pathway that I tread.
Yes, all for me the sweet birds sing
The soft green moss is for my head.
Such is the welcome that you bring.

I love to breathe the perfume sweet
That floats upon your laden air,
I love the greetings that I meet
When lost within your borders rare.

I love to feel the velvet touch
Of trembling leaf and flowerlet fair
And then I love so very much
Your steep and winding heights to dare.

All out of breath upon your crest
I rest me with exultant cry.
Of all the spots I love this best,
My longings here you satisfy.

'Tis here my soul is lifted up,
Exalted to the azure sky.
My thoughts no evil can corrupt,
For here I feel that God is nigh.

KENTUCKY'S DEAD IN GLORY LIVE

Gone back to God. What tomb could hide
The martyr souls, the sacrifice?
For us, that light forever dwell,
For home, met Fate mid hideous hell—
On land, in air, on waters wide,
Where rolled the Teutons' awful tide;
That Christian nations might abide
In love and peace—on duty fell—
Gone back to God.

O Mother mine, thy heart has sighed
In memory's shrine thy tear has dried;
From starlit land where anthems swell
An angel soldier's clear notes tell
Of love and peace—thy son who died,
Gone back to God.

EDITORIALLY

"A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid." The same is true of the school wherever located. Last Friday evening a thousand spectators sat in the High School Auditorium "on a hill" with hearts aglow and imbibed some of the results of the work accomplished at the school. Nine fine young ladies and men, just bursting upon the edge of maturity, made their debuts to the public and with moist eyes and trembling hands bade adieu to the Whitesburg High School. It was an occasion for rejoicing, an occasion for tears. Some of us have seen our little ones just out of babyhood-land, gather a few little books and trot off to school and we knew that they knew little if anything of what it meant.

It was the unfolding to some of them of the vastness of life and the opening of minds hitherto unexplored. It was a new world to them where flowers bloomed and the exchequer of knowledge was opened. Each teacher and student as well contributed to their success and the unfolding of their future. Do what we will, worry as we may, life comes on apace and the flowers of childhood burst into fruition. Oh, glorious childhood! oh, budding springtime, and oh, glorious consummation! The world needs leaders, trained minds and trained hearts, men and women to lead where cannons boom and dense clouds of smoke and flame hover. On our hill-tops, covered with pristine beauty, is an intellect when unfolded becomes the adoration of the world. A billion dollars is needed to build universities in this mountain commonwealth. The outside world needs the product to save it from annihilation and shame on the man or woman who would not willingly part with his last farthing that his children might mount the ladder of knowledge up into the sunshine. Close by the side of a river, overlooking the temple of justice, stands a red brick—the inspiration of Letcher county—the city set on a hill.

Misses Lelia Pogue, Irene Elliott, Verda Pratt and Vera Raleigh and Prof. Homer Craft, teachers here the past year, have each left for their homes. Most of them came here as total strangers and they go away with the highest appreciation and love of all. They were indeed true to themselves as teachers and in being so were true to their students. The Eagle wishes them success wherever they may hereafter be called. It is said that Mr. Craft will be recalled for work in the school the coming year, while most of the others will be employed in their professions at their homes.

Persons who come to Whitesburg, get acquainted and stay any length of time are always loathe to leave. At the present, and we are not prevaricating, Whitesburg is one of the most orderly towns in the mountains. In truth we have not seen a person the least bit intoxicated in months, we seldom if ever hear an oath or smutty word on our streets and on the Sabbaths the streets are deserted—everybody at church or at home. And yet there are more than 1,500 people living here. No wonder good people like to come to and reside in Whitesburg.

HEIM FORCED TO QUIT HIS WORK FOR SIX MONTHS

Rheumatism Had Construction Engineer Down, But Tanlac Put Him Back On The Job In Fine Shape, He Declares.

"Tanlac put me back on the job after everything else had failed," said M. M. Heim, 200 Oakley St., Evansville, Ind., construction engineer and popular fraternal order man. "For six months I never knew what it was to be free from pain. My right side was affected with rheumatism, my right arm perished away and my fingers were so cramped I couldn't hold a thing. The pain was so bad in my neck and shoulders I couldn't look up without agony. I never knew what sound sleep was. I hadn't been able to work for six months and had to give up my position. "A friend suggested Tanlac and I tried it. Now I am completely well, my rheumatism is gone and my right arm actually back to its normal size use. I am at work every day and I don't hesitate to recommend Tanlac for anybody suffering from rheumatism."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggist.

Endurance Test of Pee Gee Mastic Paint

This house—one of the finest in Toledo—was painted several years ago with Pee Gee Mastic Paint.

Instead of repainting it, the owner had it washed at two different times. The results surprised even the experienced painters, as the paint stood this rigid test perfectly.

Only a paint that produces a tile-like film, such as Pee Gee Mastic Paint, can be successfully washed.

This exceptional durability of Pee Gee Mastic Paint is the result of purest and highest grade materials. A full 50% of Zinc ground in genuine Linseed Oil and White Lead goes into the making of Pee Gee Mastic Paint.

It is the most economical paint for you to use on account of its great covering capacity and long years of service.

MILEAGE

Mileage is the "commodity" one purchases when buying a tire; not mere materials, but the service that certain materials will perform when combined.

Greater mileage is assured in Hydro-Toron tires because processes and principles employed represent the industry's greatest forward steps. The Internal Hydraulic Expansion Process prevents defects from being built into the tire—concealed from sight.

The Toron (no-rot) chemical treatment of fabric gives greater tensile strength, greater holding power between layers, increased affinity for rubber and complete protection against the damaging effects of moisture.

Hydro-Toron tires are oversize—as big as cords, better than cords. Next time you are ready to buy tires, come in and let us show you the tire you have heard so much about.
